Our field trip was a success. Despite the heat, I think we all had a good time. Thanks for coming along, parents! Hopefully, all the pumpkins made it home safely. Our class is going to make a book called, Our Field Trip to Kansas City.

Apple Update: The boys and girls put the seeds from their apples on a wet paper towel. Then we placed this in a baggy and sealed it shut. Now, the apples seeds are popping open and growing into apple trees.

This Week:

Animated Literacy Phonics Program: We'll continue reviewing "j", "k", and "ar". We'll add the character Farley Fox for the "f" sound and Baby Barnaby for the "b" sound. Fox and Bat will be our words to spell and draw. The boys and girls are struggling on the words drum, mask, jar, and star. Extra help at home would be appreciated.

Reading: Our vocabulary words "a", "the" and "my", and "that" will be reviewed. The booklets called Nan and That Nan! will come home in a Kiwi bag. Please have your child read these to you several times. Whenever the Kiwi bag comes home, you need to send the bag and the booklet back on the next day of school. We'll also continue learning to blend with the short "a" and "n" sound and sequencing.

Math: We'll finish our chapter on sorting and will focus on patterning.

Science Focus: Pumpkin and spiders investigations. It's Fire Prevention Week, so we'll discuss how to be safe and will make a fire truck with some of the safety rules on it.

Social Studies Focus: You can't have everything you want.
