This week at preschool we still had lots of fun doing more with our dinosaurs unit, but soon they will become extinct again as they are put away for another year. We also did some fun things with flowers for our spring unit.

In our Animated Literacy we met three characters, Edgar Elf and Ellie Elephant, and Nellie Newt. We have two characters left to meet before the end of the school year. Then we will review all of the Animated Literacy Characters so they can continue on with them in Kindergarten next year!!!

In our Math we wrote our numbers zero to twelve and are still sorting and making patterns with our dinosaurs. We have been doing lots of rhyming and classifying of objects this week; these both are pre-reading skills they need to know for Kindergarten.

Parents, if your child has a summer birthday and you would like to celebrate it before school is out, please let us know so we can spread the days out.

Thanks,

P.S. We hope you like your May baskets.
