What's Going On?

This week the second graders will be reading "Henry and Mudge" by Cynthia Rylant from their reading books. Vocabulary for this story is:

parents
worry weighed hundred searched different

Please practice these words with your child. Have them use each word in a sentence.

The second graders will continue to learn about place value to 100. We will also discuss ordinal numbers and patterns. Please practice addition and subtraction facts with your child at home. It is very important that every child has his or her math facts memorized by the end of the year!

This week in writing we will learn about writing paragraphs, periods after abbreviations, and nouns.

The second graders will be learning about living and nonliving things in science.

Please check your child's bag for their red folders and agendas. Agendas will be sent home if they have homework. Please initial the agendas.

Your child can bring a water bottle to school.

September reading calendars will be sent home this week. Please record the minutes your child reads. They will receive a reward if they read 450 minutes!
